

Percentage of module taught in Welsh	Nature of module coding	Language ability of the class	Cross-list/ Standalone DLP course?	Language of module DLP interface	Language of module academic content (e.g. lectures, handouts, slides)	Language of module announcements and discussion boards	Assessment guidelines and associated documents
100%	Welsh version only (with W or C code)	Welsh	Standalone	Module co-ordinator should set the module language preference to Welsh	Welsh	Welsh	Welsh
75% - 100%	Mirror coded modules (a code for Welsh and another for English with students registered on each code according to chosen)	Option 1 Mixed language class taught: i. All students taught together bilingually ii. All students taught together in English in certain sessions with	Option 1 Create a standalone Welsh DLP course alongside a separate English DLP course	Option 1 Module co-ordinator should set the DLP course language preference to Welsh	Option 1 Welsh Under ‘Course Overview’ (within ‘Course Information’), the coordinator should clearly outline what will be	Option 1 Welsh	Option 1 Welsh

	language of study) There are two options for modules co-ordinators with regard to DLP courses for this level of provision	other sessions delivered separately according to language choice.			taught/made available in Welsh and what will be taught/made available in English.
		Option 2	Option 2	Option 2	Option 2	Option 2	Option 2

		Mixed language class taught: i. All students together and taught bilingually ii. All students taught together in certain sessions with other sessions delivered separately according to language choice.	Cross-list the DLP courses	Module co-ordinator should not set the course language preference in order to enable student choice for interface language. The setting should be: “Not set (user configurable defaults to English UK)”	Under ‘Course Overview’ (within ‘Course Information’), the coordinator should clearly outline what will be taught/made available in Welsh and what will be taught/made available in English. Academic content should be posted in English and Welsh separately but next to one another to increase visibility of the language choice. Different colour font can enable students to differentiate between the languages with ease. Please use the University Guide to Accessibility for	Announcements should be bilingual. Careful consideration should be given to how to encourage discussions between students in either/both languages on the discussion boards.	Submission in Welsh should be encouraged, but submission in either Welsh or English is accepted. Students should have the ability to submit each assessment component for the module in either language according to preference e.g. written exam in Welsh but oral presentation in English etc. All guidelines for each assignment should be supplied bilingually.
--	--	---	----------------------------	---	--	--	--

					Teaching and Learning Resources to aid with colour text contrast considerations.
--	--	--	--	--	---	--	--

40% - 75%	Mirror coded modules (a code for Welsh and another for English with students registered on each code according to chosen language of study)	Mixed Some sessions in English (e.g. all lectures) and others in Welsh (e.g. all seminars/ lab pracs) or potentially the module is taught according to a staff member's expertise with certain elements taught in Welsh as well as in English by that staff member.	Cross-list the DLP courses	Module co-ordinator should not set the module language preference in order to enable student choice for interface language. The setting should be: "Not set (user configurable defaults to English UK)"	Under 'Course Overview' (within 'Course Information'), the coordinator should clearly outline what will be taught/made available in Welsh and what will be taught/made available in English. Where academic content is available in both Welsh and English they should be posted next to one another to increase visibility of the language choice. Different colour font can enable students to differentiate between the languages with ease. Please use the University Guide to	All announcements should be bilingual	Submission in either Welsh or English is accepted. Students should have the ability to submit each assessment component for the module in either language according to preference e.g. written exam in Welsh but oral presentation in English etc. All guidelines for each assignment should be supplied bilingually.
-----------	---	---	----------------------------	---	--	---------------------------------------	--

					Accessibility for Teaching and Learning Resources to aid with colour text contrast considerations.
--	--	--	--	--	---	--	--

Less than 40%	Mirror coded modules (a code for Welsh and another for English with students registered on each code according to chosen language of study)	Mixed Some sessions in English (e.g. all lectures) and others in Welsh (e.g. all seminars/ lab pracs)	Cross-list the DLP courses	Module co-ordinator should not set the module language preference in order to enable student choice for interface language. The setting should be: “Not set (user configurable defaults to English UK)”	Under ‘Course Overview’ (within ‘Course Information’), the coordinator should clearly outline what will be taught/made available in Welsh and what will be taught/made available in English. Where academic content is available in both Welsh and English they should be posted next to one another to increase visibility of the language choice. Different colour font can enable students to differentiate between the languages with ease. Please use the University Guide to	English	Submission in either Welsh or English is accepted. Students should have the ability to submit each assessment component for the module in either language according to preference e.g. written exam in Welsh but oral presentation in English etc. All guidelines for each assignment should be supplied bilingually.
----------------------	---	---	-----------------------------------	---	--	----------------	--

					Accessibility for Teaching and Learning Resources to aid with colour text contrast considerations.
Less than 40%	English-medium module code only	Mixed Some seminars/tutorials/support sessions delivered in Welsh	Standalone DLP course	English	A clearly identified section providing materials to support those studying in Welsh.	English	Submission in either Welsh or English is accepted. Guidelines for each assignment should be supplied in Welsh upon request by the student.