LLM Legal Practice and Advanced
Drafting
Year of graduation: 2023

Whilst studying Legal Practice and Advanced Drafting LLM, Benjamin, originally from South Africa, engaged with the careers and employability support available at SEA during his final year. Benjamin arranged a one-to-one appointment with a Careers Consultant to gain a better understanding of entering into the legal practice.

On engaging with the support available at SEA, Benjamin said:

I utilised the 1:1 career service to gain invaluable tips and instructions for writing a CV, creating social connections and courses to consider to further add to my professional resume.

My advisor, Paula, provided vital informative resources that I needed to be successful when applying for legal roles. With this help I have managed to secure employment working as a paralegal....

This ultimately will contribute immensely to developing my application of the law in a practical setting.

I highly recommend other students using the SEA's services, they help bridge the gap between studying and employment, making it an initially daunting process, exciting and informative.

As a result I have been offered a training contract in commercial law with a Capital Law and am looking forward to starting my career with them.'
