

Graduands will be asked to stand by the Student Marshal, and will be directed out of the auditorium on the right-hand side of the hall. Graduands will make their way to the back of the stage, up a small set of steps, and to the side of the stage where they will wait to be presented by the Chief Marshal. Graduands will exit down the steps on the opposite side of the stage and will return to their seats via the central aisle. Graduands who are sat in the additional student seating will be collected by the Student Marshal and guided out of the hall accordingly.
